Rich Roll, #1 bestselling author and world-renowned ultra endurance athlete, will be the closing keynote at WHAAS.

Upcoming WHA Annual Summit Features Three Days for Members

For more than a quarter century, Western Healthcare Alliance (WHA) has capitalized on the idea of “Together, Stronger.” WHA, supported by strong membership and growth, has been visionary in combining expertise, resources, volumes, and enthusiasm to support excellent healthcare organizations in Colorado and Utah. By joining forces—and recognizing interdependence through interdependence—WHA members will continue to lead the way amidst the myriad of changes in the healthcare industry.

Join us for two events: the Annual Summit and Leadership Academy. On February 11th and 12th, join the WHA Community of members, staff, and partners as we connect, learn, inspire and engage during peer network meetings and nationally renowned keynote addresses. The following day, members from any part of the facility including staff, new managers, directors and more are encouraged to attend Leadership Academy—a one-day workshop focusing on effective management techniques.

We are looking forward to an event that kicks off another successful year of collaboration, cost-saving initiatives, innovative technologies and growing Together, Stronger!

Western Healthcare Alliance Partners with EPC USA to Provide Protection from Cyber Attacks on Medical Records

Western Healthcare Alliance members now have access to wholesale discounts on IT security solutions through a new partnership with EPC USA. EPC utilizes the FireEye Network Threat Prevention Platform to identify and block zero-day Web exploits, droppers (binaries), and multi-protocol callbacks. Cybercriminals use the Web as a primary threat vector to deliver zero-day exploits and malicious URLs in email and exfiltrate data. The FireEye Network is designed to stop drive-by downloads and blended Web and email attacks. In addition, it offers a defense against infections that take place outside the network.

Real-time threat prevention blocks Web-based attacks.

The FireEye Network will:

- Deploy in-line (block/monitor mode) or out-of-band (TCP reset mode/monitor mode) and enable security analysis for IPv6 traffic
- Analyze all suspicious Web objects including PDFs, Flash, multimedia formats, and ZIP/RAR/TNEF archives and block outbound malware to thwart data exfiltration
- Integrate with the FireEye Threat Prevention Platform to stop blended spear-phishing attacks
- Distribute threat intelligence locally to the entire FireEye deployment and globally to the FireEye customer base through the FireEye Dynamic Threat Intelligence cloud
- Support remote third-party AAA network service access in addition to local authentication
- Provide role-based access control and audit logging
- Consolidate signature-based and signature-less technologies with the IPS add-on license to FireEye Network to automatically reduce false alerts and drive down operational spend

The U.S. healthcare industry is being targeted by cyber criminals.

Aspen Valley Hospital Awarded Gold LEED Certification

Aspen Valley Hospital

Aspen Valley Hospital announced that it has been awarded the gold LEED (Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design) certification by the U.S. Green Building Council for its new hospital construction, which opened in the fall of 2012. The only other hospital in the state to receive such a designation is Colorado Medical Center of the Rockies. The recognized project includes the addition of an inpatient unit; oncology and infusion services; rehabilitation services including physical, speech, occupational and cardiopulmonary; and medical office space. A rating system for the design, construction, operation and maintenance of green buildings, LEED points are awarded based on potential environmental and human benefits.

“This is an historic milestone,” said lead architect Russ Sedmak, of Heery International. “The Colorado hospitals who have gold LEED certification are two of only a handful of such facilities in the world.”

“Coaching the Challenging Professional & Holding People Accountable” with Jo Anne Preston, Workforce & Organizational Development Manager for the Rural WI Health Cooperative

You don't have to be a manager to be a coach, but it is important to be a coach if you want to be an effective manager. Coaches must respond differently to unique needs of employees, and it can be challenging when we have to address challenging behaviors or hold someone accountable to expectations that are not being met. People can get defensive and before we know it, the conversation gets derailed leaving you feeling frustrated and the employee without a clear plan.

Consider taking this workshop if you:

- Struggle to find the right approach in addressing underperformance
- Back away from holding the difficult conversations because of the defensive response you know you will get
- Want to hold people accountable for behaviors but are not sure they are on the same page as you when it comes to expectations
- Think you have been clear about your expectations, but find employees still not meeting them
- Are new to managing people and would like a great start to your coaching practice
- Are experienced as a manager, but have learned primarily from experience and would like a more systematic approach to coaching, particularly the challenging behaviors

Workshop objectives include:

- Identify seven common defensive behaviors that can arise in coaching conversations and create a plan to effectively address each of them
- Create a foundation for your personal approach to coaching through reviewing coaching definitions, identifying coaching opportunities, and understanding the different goals for coaching
- Learn at least three tips to handle difficult or tense situations directly and with diplomacy
- Develop a systematic approach to achieve the results you want from your employees by learning and applying a coaching model
- Explore the characteristics of effective coaches

Join us for this fun and interactive learning session that will include case studies, small and large group discussions, self assessment and practice. Leave with increased confidence and competence as a coach, ready to handle those difficult conversations.
