LEADERSHIP ACADEMY

Cost-effective, High-quality Education for Members

LEADERSHIP ACADEMY

Goals for Leadership Academy

Communication skills – focusing on effective communication that is essential to great leadership, management, and patient safety.

Management skills – supporting managers as they transition from transactional work to strategic managers who execute the vision of the organization while empowering staff.

Business skills – focusing on the business of healthcare so that emerging leaders will understand their role within the context of the healthcare system and their organization's strategic plan.

It can be challenging to ensure quality training for healthcare leaders in our rural communities. Often times staff will have to travel far for expensive classes while managing their very busy schedules. Western Healthcare Alliance (WHA) has been bringing healthcare leadership education to its members for over 10 years. We listen and respond by providing leading experts in relevant topics for today's healthcare leader.

The WHA Leadership Academy focuses on different areas geared toward improving performance and motivating staff to be the best they can be. Classes are based on member feedback and suggestions.

Who should attend? Newly appointed managers or existing managers with leadership/performance goals, individuals with a demonstrated long-term commitment to their organization, individuals with high potential for future leadership roles, and existing managers looking to hone their skills or re-energize their role in the workplace. Featuring full-day in-person classes, webinars, and multi-day virtual webinar series, these classes are guaranteed to take your leadership skills to the next level.

ANGELINA SALAZAR

Chief Executive Officer
Western Healthcare Alliance

Angelina is the Chief Executive Officer of WHA and its affiliated companies. Working with the Board of Directors, key stakeholders, and the executive management team, she establishes long-range goals, strategies, plans, and policies for the overall benefit of rural healthcare in Colorado and eastern Utah. She joined the WHA team in May 2016 to strengthen and lead the marketing and communications programs. In January 2019 she was named CEO after stepping into the interim role in July 2018.

Angelina started her career in education quickly advancing her role from Outreach Coordinator to Regional Development Director for a national nonprofit. After many years of developing programming and support, Angelina was recruited into the realm of healthcare. She started in marketing for a Critical Access Hospital in western Colorado, quickly advanced to Director of Customer Service, Marketing, Community Relations, and Development. Before leaving the hospital to join WHA, she held the executive position of Vice President of Business Development. In that role, she oversaw all communications, volunteers, marketing, physician services and identified business development opportunities. She established and implemented the infrastructure to support the organization through state and federal grants, fundraising events, and the establishment of a foundation.

In addition, Angelina serves on the National Cooperative of Health Networks Board of Directors (current Board President), the Colorado Health Institute Board of Directors (current Board President), the Saybrook University Board of Trustees, the Rueckert-Hartman College for Health Professions Advisory Board, Club 20 Healthcare Policy (current Co-Chair), National Rural Health Association Rural Health Policy Congress, and the Prime Health Advisory Board. Her dedication to solving rural healthcare challenges and building strong relationships in the community have helped to build visibility, impact, and financial stability.

Angelina possesses a Bachelor of Arts Degree in English with a minor in Spanish, two Master of Arts Degrees in Language Acquisition and Psychology as well as a certification in mediation and conflict resolution. She is also a certified Reality-based Leadership facilitator.

MANAGING CONFLICT: SKILLFUL CONVERSATIONS TO BUILD TRUST

Do you struggle to manage your frustration or avoid difficult conversations entirely? Do you know how to effectively reach a resolution when approaching a conflict? This workshop focuses on common challenges people have with communication like being assertive, speaking with clarity, managing emotions, reflective listening, and more. This course will lead participants through the skills needed to tackle conflict and difficult conversations.

Participants will learn to do the following:

- Self-assess for discovering your natural “conflict style”, exposing you to potential new styles for different situations.
- Recognize “triangulation” and how to avoid it.
- Implement tools to improve “A-to-B” communication.
- Help others improve their conflict resolution results.

MIND MATTERS: MANAGING PERCEPTIONS FOR BETTER INTERACTIONS

Your subconscious holds the beliefs or programs that ultimately create the reality that you live every day. Do you look outside of yourself to explain what’s wrong with your life? Would you like to increase your confidence, improve your communication, handle conflict, dispel anxious feelings, create rapport with others, understand and use body language, and overall, be more effective in your life? Change the program and you change the result. Learn how to view yourself from the outside in and use your perceptions to be a conscious leader.

Participants will learn to do the following:

- Learn how the conscious and unconscious mind work.
- Learn how perceptions are formed.
- Learn how to establish rapport with anyone.
- Obtain tools to examine and reprogram areas of your life where you want change.
- Determine your work values to better create a successful environment.

REALITY-BASED LEADERSHIP PHILOSOPHY: DITCHING THE DRAMA & TURNING EXCUSES INTO RESULTS

The Reality-Based Leadership Program is founded through research which proved that a tremendous hit to any organization's bottom line is waste – more specifically, the emotional waste of drama. Emotional waste shows itself as resistance to change, entitlement mentalities, complaints about workload, over-dependence upon management, lack of nimbleness and adaptation, and using circumstances or the environment as excuses for missed goals.

Emotional waste erodes business cases for new implementations, slows growth of organizations, and drains much of the margin on even the best business concept. And yet, most financially-minded leaders and investors ignore the incredible opportunity to reduce emotional expenses in favor of more concrete reductions in spending on expenses.

As with any waste, the best way to reduce that waste is through implementing great processes and engaging great people. Reality-Based Leadership provides leaders with the competencies necessary to change the mindsets of their teams, teach great mental processes that eliminate emotional waste of drama while ensuring top engagement and accountability. This philosophy isn't just about raising morale, but about turning talent into productivity. The philosophy truly captures the value that leaders can bring to the organization and ensures that value is visible throughout the organization.

Participants will learn to do the following:

- Conserve team energy and direct leadership resources to issues with the highest possible ROI.
- Reduce stress and conflict in their own life and the lives of their teams.
- Enhance engagement and accountability of human resources.
- Utilize development opportunities to enhance the capabilities of their talent.
- Build a performance expectation of “thrivability” for each employee.
- Avoid the most common things leaders do to create barriers to their own change efforts.
- Understand the new employee value equation – the way in which employees truly add value in the workplace.
- Enhance the leaders' ability to hire, coach and reward those who can truly impact the mission of the business.
- Learn simple yet powerful strategies to help employees move from a mentality of learned helplessness to personal accountability.
