

International Staffing for Healthcare Organizations

Long-term Healthcare
Staffing, Simplified

TRS International (TRS) specializes in the recruitment and placement of qualified international nursing and allied healthcare professionals for direct hire, permanent employment.

Why International Staffing?

Western Healthcare Alliance (WHA) member hospitals often struggle to hire and retain qualified staff. Through our partnership, you have access to a trusted source that understands and offers multiple recruitment and retention strategies specifically tailored to solve your staffing needs.

International recruitment for direct hire placement in hospitals is an innovative, viable, and cost-effective solution for healthcare's ongoing workforce shortage.

Why Work with TRS?

When you work with TRS, you gain a partner that is well-versed in the complete process for bringing qualified RNs and allied healthcare professionals from abroad to work in a variety of specialties in healthcare facilities across the United States.

Tried & True Expertise in International Placement

TRS staffing is led by a renowned expert with three decades of experience who forms strong partnerships between foreign healthcare professionals and US facilities.

TRS Process

Sourcing and hiring permanent staff can be a time-consuming and expensive process without help. TRS is the partner you can trust to work with you. They keep you informed and guide you through the steps so that you have the right healthcare professional talent.

- 1 Recruit Candidates
They source, prescreen, and present suitable healthcare professionals to you so that all you have to do is interview candidates and present a job offer to your chosen candidate.
- 2 Immigration Prep
They take the lead on the logistics of bringing your international healthcare professional to the US by working with award-winning immigration attorneys and obtaining Visas.
- 3 Relocation Assistance
They meet your selected candidate at the airport and help them get settled in their new community with housing assistance, transportation coordination, and more.
- 4 Ongoing Support
They keep in contact with your facility to ensure your selected candidate meets your direct hire needs and that you continue to have a positive staffing experience.

TRS is a leading international direct-hire agency, offering recruitment and staffing services for healthcare organizations seeking non-US-based nurses and allied staff.

What Makes TRS Different?

Seamless Support

TRS makes the complex international healthcare recruitment, hiring, and onboarding process simple and seamless from start to finish so that you can stay focused on operating your hospital and providing continuity of quality care.

Connections

Not only are they able to source quality candidates for your facility from abroad, but they also work with award-winning immigration attorneys who thoroughly understand the US rules and regulations for international healthcare professional employment. They take the burden off your shoulders.

Knowledge & Experience

TRS is a leader in international direct hire placement for a reason. Their team has over 30 years of experience in international healthcare staffing, so they understand both the intricate immigration process and your hospital's unique requirements for hiring. As your trusted advisor, they're able to source and match the right clinicians with your facility's needs.

Value

Unlike other international staffing agencies that require ongoing costs for each candidate they provide, TRS charges a one-time, all-inclusive fee. After an international healthcare professional joins your facility, they're your employee.
